PROSENSE FEED

from BinSentry

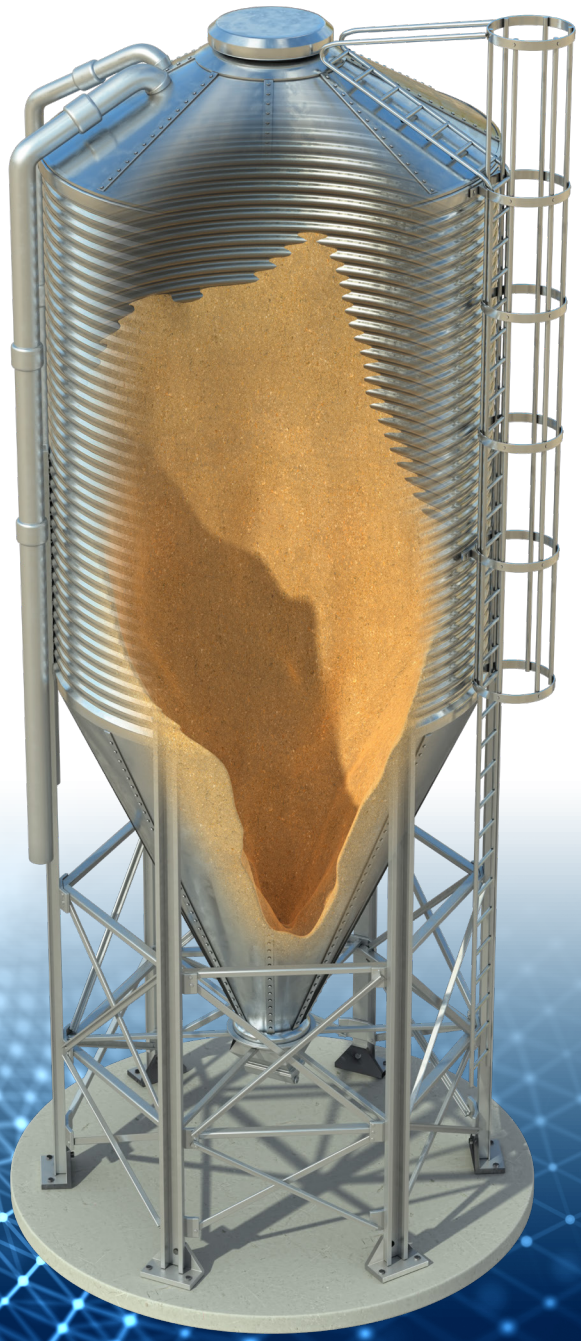

North America's most trusted feed management system

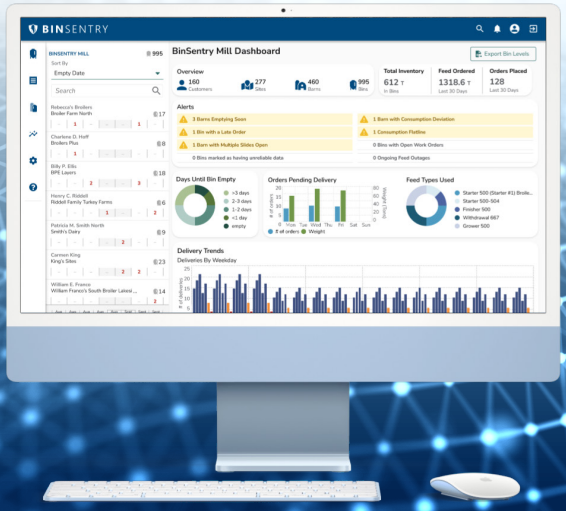

Feed is the most expensive part of raising animals. So, why are we still manually checking bins and guesstimating inventory levels?

It's time for an upgrade.

Meet ProSense Feed – a state-of-the-art, A.I. powered feed management platform that lets you cut operational costs, grow healthier animals and make huge efficiency gains.

- MANAGE every feed bin in your operation with pinpoint accurate feed inventory data.
- IMPROVE animal health and employee safety.
- EFFICIENTLY order feed based on up-to-date inventory and consumption data.
- SEE and SOLVE feed flow problems and reduce outage time by up to 75%.
- REDUCE delivery miles driven by up to 15% and see 80% fewer feed returns.
- LOWER your feed conversion ratios by up to 7 basis points.

How ProSense Feed works

Our advanced sensor technology creates a detailed picture of the feed surface – so you can see precisely what's in your bin – in near real time. ProSense Feed's software then crunches your inventory data and shows you the bins, barns and sites that need your attention first.

Get a range of customizable notifications, including:

- Days-to-empty
- Consumption flatlines
- Feed outages
- Open slide alerts
- And more.

What BinSentry customers are saying:

"The BinSentry platform is a true win-win solution that aligns with our goals by improving supply chain management, replacing manual processes, and allowing us to focus on feeding our chickens high-quality feed to care for them and produce the best food for our customers."

– Kevin McDaniel – CEO, Wayne-Sanderson Farms

"BinSentry helps us see accurate inventory that we can trust. It removes the farmer from having to go out and bang on bins to get inventory and makes our decision-making across the board much better."

– Eric Gingrich, Senior Business Analyst, The Wenger Group
